

Exhibition list

A real public document replacing the placeholder stub. The detailed formal list can be expanded later when confirmed records are ready.

Current status

A finalized exhibition history is not yet published in this public dossier. That is deliberate: the public document should remain truthful rather than padded with provisional or informal entries.

What this document currently provides

Public purpose	To give curators and organizers a usable document instead of a blank placeholder file.
Current state	Detailed exhibition chronology in preparation.
Private follow-up	A more detailed list can be shared directly once records are consolidated.
Presentation formats	Wall-based sequence, projected edit, editorial pairing, or small-room installation.

Curatorial context

STILLMRK is sequence-driven work. Images are built to operate in relation: threshold, open ground, reflection, weather, winter, and the occasional interruption of solitude by another presence. Any exhibition or screening should preserve that pacing rather than treating the body of work as an interchangeable image bank.
